Timmy Hill returns to ARCA action at Iowa

Rick Ware Racing's, Timmy Hill is looking forward to his return in the ARCA Remax Series this weekend. Hill is coming off an impressive run in the NASCAR K&N Pro West Series at the Toyota Speedway in Irwindale, California this past weekend.

Hill piloted his #99 RWR Fuel Doctor USA Chevy to a series debut finish of 7th in only his second career stock car race.

"I have never had so much fun racing as I did this past weekend. The car was hooked up and we were running down the leaders but came up short. This team has given me great pieces in both my races and I think we have a great opportunity for a Top 5 at Iowa Speedway in the ARCA Series," claimed Hill.

Hill started 10th in his ARCA Series debut at Salem Speedway but was involved with a lapped-down car that ended his day with only twenty laps to the finish.

“I learned a lot that day and we showed that last weekend as we were aggressively cautious on our way to the front. I think we will need that same game plan for Iowa if we stand a chance at being there at the end!”

Hill will be wearing the Fuel Doctor USA colors on his #47 this weekend, a staple of RWR for 2010. “The Fuel Doctor company has been a great asset to our organization this year and we look forward to the day we can celebrate our relationship in Victory Lane,” stated owner Rick Ware. “You never know how the races will fall, and hopefully we can do that celebration this weekend!”

Action for the Prairie Meadows 200 starts on July 10th at 8:00pm
